- Organization Structure & Chart(Please provide brief about Organization Structure of Department/Sub Department)*

- Anatomy

Anatomy is a branch of biology and medicine that considers the structure the human body. The department strives to provide an excellent learning environment for students, and to lay the foundation for understanding Medicine. Anatomy is a subject taught in the first year of the MBBS course. The faculty at the department is also involved in teaching the nursing students.

- Physiology

The goal of Physiology is to explain the physical and chemical factors that are responsible for the origin, development and progression of life. In Human Physiology, we attempt to explain the specific characteristics & mechanisms of the human body that makes it a living being. Human physiology is taught in first year along with Human Anatomy & Human Biochemistry and understanding of Physiology forms the foundation of the medical knowledge which will be acquired later.

- Biochemistry

The subject of human Biochemistry is the study of chemical processes within, and relating to, living organisms. The biochemical processes in our body are responsible for the complex mechanisms that sustain life. Knowledge of biochemistry is fundamental to our understanding of the human body and its function and is the basis for corrections of a number of ailments that affect us. For this reason the subject is introduced in the first year medical curriculum. Students are trained to apply the knowledge of biochemistry in the management of conditions that affect health.

- Pharmacology

The department of pharmacology taught in the 2nd MBBS curriculum. Pharmacology is the branch of medicine and biology concerned with the study of drugs. The two main areas of pharmacology are pharmacodynamics and pharmacokinetics. Pharmacology, a biomedical science, deals with the research, discovery, and characterization of chemicals which show biological effects and the elucidation of cellular and organismal function in relation to these chemicals.

- Pathology

Pathology is a branch of medical science primarily concerning diagnosis and characterization of disease based on the examination of tissues removed from diseased body parts or samples. This includes the diagnosis of a wide range of diseases including cancer. Pathology is a subject is taught in the 2nd year of the MBBS course.

- Microbiology

Microbiology is the study of microscopic organisms. Microbiology includes the disciplines virology, mycology, parasitology, bacteriology & other fields. The knowledge of the various agents that can cause disease, their lifecycle is important to understanding how we can diagnose and prevent infectious disease. Microbiology as a subject is taught during the 2nd year of the MBBS course.

- Forensic Medicine

The Department of Forensic Medicine and Toxicology has the state of the art facility for teaching this branch of Medicine that helps in determining the cause of death. It has a well equipped museum and library to help students develop interest in this subject which is taught during the 2nd MBBS.

- Preventive and Social Medicine

The department of Preventive and Social Medicine also referred to as Community Medicine strives towards providing preventive, promotive and curative health services. The department has a Rural Health and Training Centre at Murud and an Urban health Centre at Patel Chowk, Latur. The department strives to give the students an insight into the exciting world of public health and encourages them to think of the community at large while proving care. Preventive medicine is an important branch of medicine and is part of the 1st, 2nd and 3rd MBBS curriculum.

- General Medicine/Internal medicine

The department of Internal medicine is a special branch which has the scientific knowledge and clinical expertise for the management of adults across the spectrum for a variety of communicable as well as non communicable disease. People with diabetes, hypertension, heart disease, malaria, stroke would be managed by the department of internal medicine. All medical emergencies can be tackled in the casualty and attempts made to stabilize them as per standard Protocol.

- General Surgery

The department of Surgery is dedicated to provide the best comprehensive surgical care to the people and train the next generation of surgeons to serve the state. General surgery is a surgical specialty that focuses on abdominal contents including esophagus, stomach, small bowel, colon, liver, pancreas, gallbladder and bile ducts, and often the thyroid gland (depending on the availability of head and neck surgery specialists). They also deal with diseases involving the skin, breast, soft tissue, and hernias.
